

AI validation and prioritisation pipeline

Two independent urgency signals reach a human decision-maker. The filing completes before inference starts, and the model can flag a report but never reject it.

